ALL SORTS.

—Pawning seems to go on the policy of attacking any ticket he don't happen to be on.

—The registry books closed last evening with 822 names on the list in Carson Precinct, and 155 in Empire Precinct.

—We are sorry for one reason that the Chronicle imported its new editor just at the time it did; California will lose one good Republican vote by it.

—Lost—On Tuesday evening between John Furlong's house and the depot, a small, gold stem-winding watch. A reward of $10 will be paid the finder, if left at this office.

—The Republican party is accused of being wedded to the corporations. The Democrats have no corporations in this State. The men who risk their money in State development are all Republicans.

—Governor Adams claims to be related to old John Adams, of revolutionary fame. Charles Francis is a cool-headed and unemotional gentleman, but if he hears of this report he will be out with a club.—Enterprise.

—Why go about with that aching head? Try Ayer's Pills. They will relieve the stomach, restore the digestive organs to healthy action, remove the obstructions that depress nerves and brain, and thus cure your headache permanently.

—It now turns out that Pawning didn't contribute a cent toward lobbying the Reno Asylum Bill through, and Fulton of the Gazette put up $100.

First time we learned that Pawning didn't run the whole machine alone.

—Miss Cleveland has quit the Literary Life, the publisher refusing to turn the entire profits over to her for a page of weekly mash.

Come right out here, Rose, there is still room for you in the campaign.

—Mary Anderson has subscribed $2,500 for the Charleston sufferers—the profits of a week's performances. The President's pay for a week amounts to about $1,000, but the Relief Committee in Charleston is remarkably slow in acknowledging the receipt of that sum from him.

—The great crime of the Republican County Convention was that it broke the back of a ring that would brook no interference and permit no nomination to be made without its consent. It even undertook to say what names should be presented to the State Convention. Free Americans do not like to be compelled to take their nominations that way.—Reno Gazette.

—There is no reason in the world why Nevada should be standing still or losing population all these years. If she was properly represented in the Senate it would go a long way towards starting her on the forward road. Such a man as Stewart yoked up with Jones and Woodburn would be worth more in a year than Fair would be in century.—Reno Gazette.

—The Chronicle brings a grave charge against Lieutenant Governor Laughton, viz: that he is a fiddler. The APPEAL can vouch that he is one of the best fiddlers in the State. The editor of the Chronicle has no music in his soul, and is one of that class denounced by Shakespeare as fit only for "treason, stratagem and spoils." He might however learn to assist in playing his national instrument, the bag-pipe, furnishing the wind while some skilled hand manipulates the keys.

—Nothing which Master Workman Powderly has done will meet more warm approval than his advice to the workmen to shun strong drink. If the Knights of Labor would yearly for five years put aside as much money as they have spent this year in useless treating, they would have a fund which would go very far towards buying each one of them 160 acres of land, a t. a. m. seed for one crop and six months' food. They will never have any idea of the amount until they stop to make a calculation. Let one figure up how much he has spent for liquor during the past week, let him multiply that by fifty two. That will show him how much his own assessment has been, and that sum multiplied by the total number of Knights will give him a glimpse of why capital always has the best of labor.

Purely a Democratic Row.

The discharge of Savage from the R. R. shops has caused a great hubbub among the Democratic and Mugwump journals.

The facts of the case are that Mr. Savage was discharged by Mr. Kelly, a Democrat, and a man who ran on the Democratic ticket for School Trustee two years ago, and was elected.

Mr. Savage went to Mr. Yerington for redress, and the latter asked Mr. Kelly to reinstate him. This was done, but the two men had another quarrel, and Mr. Savage was again discharged. Mr. Yerington then declined to interfere with Mr. Kelly's orders, and so the matter stands.

While the charge is continually made that the V. & T. R. R. shops only employ Republicans, and drive them like sheep to the polls, the facts of the case are that some of the departments of the shops actually contain a majority of Democrats. These men vote as they please, realizing that their places do not depend upon their political proclivities. As the road pays the highest wages of any road in the world for skilled labor, it naturally demands the highest class of skill, and Mr. Yerington would no more think of hiring a Republican mechanic on account of his politics than he would think of ditching a train.

If two men were to present themselves today, one a skilled Democratic mechanic and the other an unskilled Republican mechanic, the Democrat would get the place, even though he were the worst rabid Democratic howler in Ormsby. The fact that workmen have held their places there for years and kept right on voting the Democratic ticket, is a sufficient refutation of these foolish charges. There are not today more independent mechanics in the United States than those in the employ of H. M. Yerington.

A Bad Plan.

A young school girl who gets a piece of tin, paints it black and then daubs a badly-drawn, badly-colored rose or cat's head upon it, is encouraged by the State Fair management to the extent of $5. The miserable daub would not sell for 25 cents at auction. On the other hand a carriage maker puts in a month's time perfecting a carriage worth, say, $250 and if he takes it to the Fair and exhibits it, he gets merely a diploma to encourage him for his display of mechanical skill and patience.

Mr. Torreyson of this city can turn out as good a piece of wagon or carriage work as can be produced in San Francisco, and there are carriage makers in Reno who can do work equally as good, but the only reward for such an exhibition of industry and mechanical ability is a diploma.

The APPEAL proposes to agitate this matter in the hopes that next year the premium list will be so revised that there will be less money given to crazy quilts, tidies, worsted work and wretched attempts at art by the hands of misguided amateurs, and more given to encourage agriculture and manufacturers in Nevada.

The APPEAL is informed that a young girl took $18.50 in premiums on a class of exhibits not in all worth $3. All this goes to show that the premium list needs a sweeping revision.

Al. Longley's Death.

The death of Al. Longley has cast a gloom over Washoe county. The jury found the following verdict:

The undersigned jurors summoned before H. P. Brown, Coroner of Washoe county, State of Nevada, to inquire into the cause of the death of A. A. Longley, of said Washoe county, do hereby find and declare that said Longley was a native of Kentucky, aged 33 years, that he came to his death this 19th day of October, 1886, at said Washoe county, from a gunshot wound in the head. We further find that the shooting was accidental, arising from a mis-step or fall in the dark.

It is now definitely ascertained that Longley took his pistol to look for burglars supposed to be prowling about and stumbled as he came in the door thereby discharging the weapon.

—If you would have appetite, flesh, color, strength, and vigor, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which will confer them upon you in rapid succession.

The Sheriff's Office.

Personally the APPEAL has always been friendly to Sheriff Swift, and this friendship only intensifies our regret that after receiving office for sixteen years from the hands of the Republican party he should accept a nomination from the hands of its enemies, and the men in fact who have always fought him. We do not know how much the emoluments of the office have been during his term of sixteen years, but have heard it placed as high as $70,000.

Certainly a man who has been placed in the way of receiving so much money by the Republican party would seem the last man to now be fighting his benefactors. As Sheriff, Mr. Swift was a man of great personal courage and promptness in the sudden emergencies of his office but his executive ability was poor.

During the years 1883 and '84 he collected $22,820 for city and county license, in 1885 and '86 his successor, Mr. Crisler through his deputy Mr. Ullrich, regular Republican nominee, collected for city and county licenses, $34,000. Thus Mr. Ullrich turned in $11,200 more than Mr. Swift.

These figures make a startling exhibit and represent a solid saving to the taxpayers. They can be verified by the books of the office.

A Good Democrat Rewarded.

The appointment of William Byrne to the cashiership of the Postoffice is a just reward to a good party man. For some inexplicable reason Mr. Byrne although a Democrat, held the position of cashier of the Mint in this city during a Republican Administration. He didn't sneak into it under pretence of being a Republican and he never associated in any way with the whining Mugwumps of the institution, but openly proclaimed his political principles as Democratic died in the wool, and all wool beside.

The APPEAL admires a straight out man of any kind, and Mr. Byrne fills the bill. By his appointment the Department secures the services of an honest and competent man, and besides a deserving journalist.

Rose Cleveland Retires.

NEW YORK, October 20.—A dispatch from Chicago says positively that Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland, the President's sister, has left the editorial chair of the Literary Life and that lawsuits for damages for a violation of contract are to follow. Elder, the publisher, is reported to have threatened, in the event of Miss Cleveland bringing suit, to make public all of her private correspondence, and summon to the witness stand, in his defense, President Cleveland and all the members of the Cleveland family. The trouble was caused by Miss Cleveland's demand for a larger share of the financial profits of the Literary Life, which have risen from next to nothing to a very handsome figure.

A Campaign Trick.

The voters who have bets on the result of an election cannot vote at such election. There are men in the country, so we learn, who are making it a business to make small bets; one man will bet with a hundred. He kills his own vote, of course, on one side, but kills a hundred on the opposite side. He bets to win, if possible, to lose, if necessary. As it is a small bet, it is virtually buying votes at so much apiece. Look out!

The APPEAL learns that Fair has men all through Nevada working up this slippery trick, and every man who bets will find his vote challenged on election day.

Senator Jones in the Campaign.

Senator John P. Jones will address the people of Nevada on the political issues of the day, beginning at Silver City, Friday, October 22, and ending at Virginia City Saturday, October 30. Senator Jones is a forcible and eloquent speaker, and should be listened to by all who are concerned in the interests of their State.

—The Chronicle is authority for the statement that McMillan is out in the remote localities and small mining camps. In other words McMillan has got all he wants of the joint debate and has taken to the woods. The Democratic Central Committee had better send an exploring party after McMillan to see that he doesn't wander off into California.
